

DRIVING INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION

An International Driving Permit (IDP) is a standardised multilingual translation document that presents the information from your existing domestic driving authorisation in multiple languages.

When you travel abroad, car rental companies and road authorities can understand your entitlement to drive without needing to read your home country's script or language.

The IDP does not replace your domestic driving authorisation. Both documents must be carried together at all times when driving abroad. Together, they allow you to legally drive and rent vehicles in 189+ countries worldwide.
