Online Press Release

Your news should not wait for a courier, a fax line or a favour from a friendly desk.

- Upload a draft from any device and see it live on trusted news portals the same working day.
- One dashboard handles writing help, editor approval, scheduling and distribution — no chasing anyone.
- Every release carries clean, do-follow brand links that keep pulling traffic long after the news cycle ends.
- Pay only for the circle you want: city, state, national or global syndication.

Press Release Company

The company behind your announcement decides whether it gets read or quietly ignored.

- In-house editors rewrite weak drafts to newsroom standard before a single portal sees them.
- A verified media network built over years — business, tech, finance, health and regional desks.
- Fixed, transparent packages: startups pay startup rates, enterprises get volume and scale.
- One account manager from brief to published report, plus a clickable coverage sheet you can forward.

News Press Release

Editors pick up a story that answers three things: what changed, for whom, and why now.

- A sharp headline, a dated dateline, one human quote and numbers a reporter can verify.
- Built for real news moments — launches, funding, awards, tie-ups, appointments, expansions.
- Structured for Google News and search, so your announcement ranks for your brand name.
- Optional regional-language versions carry the same story to readers in their own tongue.
