

Menswear made for your biggest celebrations

Satkar Ceremonial

Satkar Ceremonial is a menswear label from Andheri East, Mumbai, built around weddings and the events that surround them. The collection brings together sherwani-style jackets, bandhgala looks and embroidered waistcoats, cut for men who want to look sharp without feeling costumed. Indo Western Suit for Men

An indo western suit for men sits between a sherwani and a tailored jacket: a mandarin collar, a long clean line, and embroidery only where it counts. It works for a sangeet, reception or engagement without looking heavy. Black with fine gold thread work is a safe choice that photographs well.

- Mandarin collar, long jacket line
- Subtle gold embroidery
- Matching or contrast slim trousers

Wedding Indo Western for Men

Choosing a wedding indo western for men starts with your role: groom, brother or close friend. Grooms often lean towards ivory and champagne with tonal embroidery, while guests can go deeper. Finish with a pocket square and loafers instead of piling on accessories.

- Ivory and champagne for the groom
- Tonal thread work that catches light
- Loafers and a pocket square to finish

Indo Western Wear for Men

Indo western wear for men is more than one outfit. It also covers Nehru and bandi jackets over a crisp white shirt, a lighter option for mehendi, haldi or day functions. A pastel jacquard waistcoat with off-white trousers feels relaxed and still dressed up.

- Nehru jackets and waistcoats
- Lighter looks for day events
