

FastFingers

FastFingers is a free typing practice site run from New Delhi. You can take a timed typing test, follow lessons, play typing games and see where you stand on the leaderboard, all in the browser. Every run shows your speed in words per minute and your accuracy, and if you sign in, your stats are kept in your account. Falling Words, the arcade game behind this deck, is the quickest way in: open the page and start typing.

Typing Challenge Game

A good typing challenge gives you a reason to keep going after the first two minutes. In Falling Words, wooden boxes drop from the top of the screen with one word painted on each. Type the word before the box lands and it bursts into pixel confetti. Let one reach the floor and you lose a heart, and your combo goes back to zero. Easy, Medium and Hard change the fall speed and the word length, so the same game suits a beginner and a fast typist. It is a typing challenge game you can start in one click, with no signup.

Typing Games Online

Typing games online work best when they sit next to proper practice. FastFingers has two games and a timed test, and each one trains something different. Falling Words builds speed and quick reading. Keyboard Jump drills accuracy on the home, top and bottom rows. The timed typing test, anywhere from 15 seconds to 5 minutes, shows where you stand. Warm up with the test, fix weak keys in Keyboard Jump, then finish with Falling Words. Everything runs in a modern browser, though you will want a real keyboard.

Typing Games Test

Want to know how fast you really type? A typing games test turns practice into a number. Each Falling Words run ends with a result card showing your score, WPM, accuracy, level reached and best combo. Play the same level a few days in a row and those numbers tell you whether you are improving. FastFingers says three or four short sessions a day for a couple of weeks usually add 5 to 10 WPM. Sign in for free and your runs also go to your stats and the public leaderboard.
