Plus Size Indian Outfits

Finding Indian wear that fits well above a size 16 should not be a chore. Rangeet's plus size range focuses on cuts that skim rather than cling: straight kurtas, easy palazzo and pant sets, soft dupattas that drape without bunching. Pick a rust embroidered set for a family puja or something richer for a reception, and walk in comfortable.

- ◆ Roomier, flattering cuts
- ◆ Kurta sets, suits and festive pieces
- ◆ Easy to wear all day

Sharara Suit for Wedding

A sharara suit moves beautifully, which is why it keeps turning up at mehendis and sangeets. The wide, flared legs give you the swing of a lehenga with the ease of trousers, and a short kurta with a lace-trimmed dupatta finishes the picture. Rangeet's sharara suits come in lime, blush, jewel tones and more, so there is a colour for the bride's side and the guests.

- ◆ Flared legs, easy to dance in
- ◆ Mehendi, sangeet and reception looks
- ◆ Colours from soft pastels to deep jewel tones

Teenage Indian Outfits

Teens want ethnic wear that feels like theirs, not a smaller version of what their mothers wear. Rangeet's teenage collection leans on lighter fabrics, easy skirts, crop blouses and soft net dupattas, so festive dressing feels fun. Great for Navratri nights, a cousin's wedding or a school function, and easy to restyle later.

- ◆ Young, light and easy styles
- ◆ Skirt sets, crop tops and dupattas
- ◆ For festivals, weddings and parties
