Protection that works as hard as you do

Flame Resistant Hoodie

A flame resistant hoodie gives workers a warm, familiar layer without ignoring fire risk. Instead of ordinary cotton blends that can keep burning, flame-resistant fabric is made to resist ignition and self-extinguish. It suits welders, electricians, oilfield crews and anyone near sparks or heat.

- Hooded warmth for cold sites and early shifts
- Kangaroo pocket and ribbed cuffs for everyday use
- Always confirm the rating label against your site rules

Fr Hoodie

An FR hoodie replaces the unprotected sweatshirt many crews wear under a jacket. Pullover and full-zip styles in navy, black, olive and grey keep the look practical, so the layer feels like regular workwear while still doing a safety job.

- Pullover and zip-front options
- Work-friendly colours that hide grease and dust
- Layers neatly under outer shells and vests

Fr Hoodies for Men

FR hoodies for men are cut with room through the chest and shoulders, so reaching, lifting and climbing stay easy. Buyers should compare fit, hood design and fabric weight, then match the garment to the hazards listed in their safety plan.

- Roomy raglan sleeves for free arm movement
- Choose weight by climate and task
- Ideal for utilities, refineries and industrial plants
